ALBERTA'S WINNINGS AT THE BIG EXHIBITION

Once again Alberta exhibitors in both grain and live stock came to the fore in the prize list of the royal winter fair at Toronto, and the international show at Chicago.

At Chicago, for the seventh time in 11 years, Alberta captured the world title in wheat. This year's victor was John B. Allsop of Wembley, 20 years old, a native of Calgary, and member of the Grande Prairie junior grain club. He farms near Herman Trelle, former world wheat champion, and won at Chicago with Reward Wheat. He is the first junior farmer to win the title. Last year, Ian Smith, junior farmer from Edson, won the world title in his other championships taken at Chicago this year included that in field beans by H. Graham of Iron Springs, near Lethbridge the reserve championship going to C. Griffin of Brooks, while the championship in timothy seed went to A. Mongeau of Pincher Creek. Herman Trelle won reserve championship in oats.

Alberta has won the world wheat title eight times in the past eleven years, seven of these being taken at Chicago and the other at Regina Grain Congress last year.

At Chicago, live stock exhibits from Alberta were entered this year for the first time in a number of years, and won important awards. Crawford Frost of Nanton, Hereford breeder, won a first place, and the Prince of Wales Shorthorns also made outstanding wins, among which was first in get of sire.

At Toronto's Royal Fair, one of Alberta's important successes was the winning of the Canadian championship in junior cattle judging contests, by the beef calf club team from Lacombe, Henry Magilton and Edward Chessor. In the individual junior grain exhibits, the Sebastian brothers of Wembley won first and second place in spring wheat, and John Kovich of Lethbridge won first place in six-rowed barley. In the adult classes Bryant of Boyle won first in sweet clover, and Art Smith of Wembley, first in rye grass.

In the live stock classes at Toronto, in which Alberta exhibitors generally shine, a large number of prizes were taken. Outstanding among them was the grand championship won by the Lethbridge Experimental Farm on a Percheron stallion, three first and a reserve championship won by the University of Alberta in beef cattle classes a reserve championship by the Prince of Wales' Ranch in senior shorthorn calf a reserve championship by Frank Collett in a senior yearling Hereford heifer, a reserve championship by Crawford Frost of Nanton. These exhibitors also took many other prizes.

In dairy cattle at Toronto, as in the past two years, another record was established, bringing the province once more into the limelight as a producer of good foundation dairy stock. The C.P.R. Shorthorn Farm and Hays and Co. of Calgary, as usual, carried off many prizes in the Holstein classes. The province won the state lead trophy, with five contributing breeders from the province, while the C.P.R. farms get first in a class of seven two year olds and also were the proud winners of the all American trophy on their two-year old heifer, Jassina. J. W. Hofstad of Edmonton, won a second and sixth in Holsteins and W. Hindson of Kathryn, won a second in dual-purpose Shorthorns.

Rhodes Scholarship

Donald Wilson, son of Dr. W. A. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson of Edmonton, has been selected University of Alberta Rhodes Scholar for 1934-35. A fourth year student in Medicine, Mr. Wilson has been prominent in athletic and executive circles on the campus since entering the University in 1931. He is president of the University of Alberta men's athletic association and has seen active service in football and swimming team.

The new Rhodes Scholar is the first U. of A. medical man to receive the award.

1934 Motor Licenses

There were 87,716 automobiles and truck licenses sold in Alberta 1934, according to figures compiled as at November 30. This total is 2,753 higher than the 84,963 licenses sold in 1933 up to November 30. Of the 1934 total, 72,333 licenses were for pleasure cars and 15,178 for trucks. Last year there were 70,919 pleasure car plates and 11,411 for trucks.

Relief Settlement

A total of 594 families from the relief lists of the cities of the province have been placed on the land to date by the joint land settlement committee representing the provincial and federal governments and the two railways. Of this number, some 223 were placed this year and a number of applications from other families are at present under consideration.

In the movement of settlers from the drought areas, a total of 601 families have been moved to new locations by the provincial government this year. Of these 307 were moved in the spring and the balance since last August. These families were settled in various parts of central and northern Alberta. The movement involved 511 car loads of effects, and some 3,800 horses and 5,800 head of cattle, moved under the joint free freight arrangement.

In addition to this movement of families from Saskatchewan were assisted by the provincial government in getting new locations in Alberta.

Christmas Trees. The cutting of Christmas trees is prohibited on government lands, announces the provincial lands and mine department. This includes school lands controlled by the government and unpatented homestead lands.

Oil Production

Production of petroleum in Alberta wells for the month of October was 107,231 barrels, bringing the total production for the year to October 31, up to 1,061,497 barrels compared with 813,338 barrels for the same period of last year.

Cool Production

The total coal production of Alberta mines to the end of October was 3,639,552 tons, compared with 3,553,845 tons for the same period of 1933.

News Notes

Mrs. Anderson, mother of Mrs. Louis Brandley left for her home in Utah on Thursday.

Call in and look over our selection of Xmas Cards. They are the best, and most reasonably priced, that we have ever shown.

Premier R. C. Reid negotiated a loan of $750,000 while in Ottawa recently, the bulk of which will be used for relief in drought areas and in agriculture.

The Second Ward Carnival held Thursday and Friday nights of last week, was a decided success, and both nights the large building was packed with people from early in the evening until the finale, which came between 1 and 2 a.m. each evening. People were present from all over Southern Alberta, and everyone was seeking out the enjoyment they liked, and having a good time all the time.

There were several very clever side shows, outstanding among them being "Spidora," the black widow spider, and the human skeleton. In the arrangement of these things the on-lookers were kept puzzled, and while many of them stood for many minutes studying the apparition very few of them were able to figure it out and even when they did solve the puzzle were still interested and intrigued. Along with these were several other clever arrangements.

The usual lineup of games of chance were in evidence, and quilts, cushions, blankets, and what have you were raffled off. Cakes, boxes of candy, anything and everything, was on the auction block, and all of it found ready sale, amongst the good-natured and happy go lucky crowd present. A turkey shoot on the second floor lured the keen eyed marksmen and women to try their luck, and a good many Xmas turkeys were taken home for an investment of 25 or 50 cents, when anyone had good luck and a keen eye.

Bingo, throwing darts, rings spinning wheels, dozens of other including throwing of base balls, made the hall like a circus show, and the throng kept milling about, the only way to get any place being to fall inured.

Late News From The Oil Well

At 6 a.m. Friday morning, the drill in the Cardston Well was down 1230 feet still going through the St. Mary's sands, but C. Bennetts, head driller said they expected to drill into the Milk River sands every minute now. Another flow of gas was struck during the night, which is a very hopeful sign.

Asked as to prospects, Mr. Bennetts said they were excellent, their fondest expectations, and striking gas again, being the fifth showing, was the most joyful event of the past week's work. Development is looked for very day now with the bit continually going deeper.

"Terrible Swedes" Already Booked

Basketball fans are assured of some interesting and exciting games during the coming winter. The boys are working steadily and when the season opens should be in excellent physical condition as they are commencing their training about a month earlier than has been the custom in the past. We expect some red hot articles on the personnel of the teams in the early issues of the Recorder.

Another piece of good news is the fact that the colored team the New York Harlem team will be here the middle of January to tangle with the Jacks, and in the early part of February the Terrible Swedes will show us so much basketball will be back again. The arrangements for these teams are ready made and fans can look forward to some interesting exhibitions when they arrive. Watch for particulars.

"Rayo" expects that the senior league and Intermediate League schedules will be drawn up possibly Saturday, and we will publish them as soon as possible. For the information of the fans, Watch for them and give the boys your support as in earlier resolutions.

A fairly well attended meeting was held in the Town Hall Friday afternoon last, and was addressed by M. J. Connor, local M.L.A., Hon. J. R. Love, Provincial Treasurer, and Mr. Anderson of the Bulmer local. The meeting was under the auspices of the U.F.A.

Mr. Connor stated that W. R. Rowson had made incorrect statements in the riding two years ago, and that Mr. Love was here to correct them.

In dealing with the financial situation of the Province, the Premier stated that expenditures were less today than they were in 1921 and that every cent of automobile tax paid in 1925 had been spent on roads, with another 3 million added to it. The gasoline tax was as low here as in any other province in Canada, and lower than many. The interest on our public debt was high, and he stated the budget could not be balanced until the farmers had a 100 million dollar wheat crop and his buying power was restored. These were the high lights of an interesting and enlightening speech.

School Program Next Thursday

Thursday evening, December 13th, in the Opera House, the students and teachers of the public school will present a Christmas program commencing at 7 p.m. in which nearly 200 children will participate.

While unable to obtain the full details of the program, we are informed by Principal J. O. Hicken that it will consist of recitations, solos, both vocal and instrumental, monologues, dialogues, plays, community singing, and a variety that will be both interesting and entertaining for all who come out to listen.

Don't forget the time and the date and come out to enjoy the offerings of the kiddies.

News Notes

Mr. and Mrs. David Meldrum left on the bus this morning to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives and friends in Idaho and Utah.

Mrs. A. W. Kirkham and Mrs. Thos. Allan were in Lethbridge Thursday, attending the funeral services of Mrs. Risinger of Bayton. We extend our sympathy to Mr. Risinger in his bereavement.

The Lethbridge Herald celebrated its 27th birthday Tuesday, with vol 28 No. 1 appearing on the top of the paper. We extend our heartiest congratulations to the Herald on the success they have achieved and the good work they are doing in Southern Alberta.

When the Kerns Hotel in Lethbridge burned Tuesday night, the city was shocked, and the fire department was called. It was stated that there were between 25 and 50 bodies in the ruins. Many of the bodies were killed when they fell from the window of the hotel. The loss of the hotel was a great blow to the city.

A tri-State organization of which M. T. King is President and Wilfrid VanOrman secretary, has been formed, which hopes to enable the championship "M" Men team of the three States make the trip to Salt Lake City each spring for the basketball finals of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Details of the set-up are forthcoming.

OUR CHANGING CLIMATE

Who would want to go to California, or any other place for more delightful weather, than we have been enjoying for the present winter, at least so far. Thus we have had a storm or two, and the roads have been rather nasty for periods of time following storms, but taking it all in all, the weather has been just about as nearly perfect as could be asked for. Can you account for the gradual moderation and shortening of our winters?

Old-timers can remember when winter started between the 1st and 15th of October of each year, and from then until the middle of April one hardly ever seen the ground, and temperatures of 20 below zero for 10, 14 and sometimes 21 days at a stretch were frequent. Cattle were known to freeze to death overnight in some of the 45 and 50 below zero arctic chills, and freezing of feet and hands on the part of freighters and those exposed to the weather for six or eight hours at a stretch was common and expected.

Compare such occurrences with the weather we have had since the middle of October when colder weather usually sets in. There have been frost nights, yes, but no really cold days. Dozens of homes of four and five rooms are only having one fire, and that in the cook stove, in these mild months, and many winters it would have required two stoves almost red hot continually to keep a house of that size warm. Many say, well we will catch it after New Year's. It may be, and again it may not be. In the winter of '29 and '30, we had the coldest weather of the entire winter around the 15th of October, and from then on until spring we had warm, mild and pleasant weather. An occasional squall, and a night or two of nip, weather, but no winter weather with long drawn out blizzards, and weeks and weeks of steady cold.

Instead of worrying about what kind we will get next week, or next month, why not enjoy what we have, and let the future take care of itself. We can't change it anyway.

THAT the housewife who has an eye for economy reads the ads.

She appreciates the high quality of the merchandise that is advertised.

At the store that advertises she finds a selection of merchandise at prices that make shopping worth while.

The thrifty housewife takes advantage of the opportunities appearing in the advertisements. Everyone should do the same.

People soon learn to have confidence in the store that is a constant advertiser.

Constant advertising is a guarantee of quality, and quality builds up a reputation for honesty.

Stores with a reputation for honesty win the confidence of the people. These stores always appreciate honest criticism, for honest criticism always helps the merchant.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it.

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs.
Louise Johnson (address furnished upon request).

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass.
Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking.

protein supplement in the mash is considerably lower though the total amount of protein sup-

The old theory that the birds must have scratch grain in the litter in order to induce them to take exercise has been abandoned long ago and at this Station scratch has not been fed in the litter for a number of years. Here the scratch is fed in troughs morning and night and by so doing the feed kept clean and does not become contaminated as it does when fed in the litter.

Claims have been made that well cured alfalfa is a satisfactory source of vitamins for the birds and while this may be true if the alfalfa is cured under perfect conditions it is not true in an average year. We have found that under normal conditions alfalfa hay or leaves cannot be trusted to supply sufficient vitamins to keep the birds functioning properly and in good health. This does not mean that cured alfalfa should be excluded from the ration as alfalfa leaves properly cured, do supply essential constituents, but cod liver oil must be added to the ration to supply vitamins when birds are confined to houses as during the winter. Bleached or poor quality alfalfa is of very little value and should not be used.

Birds in heavy production require liberal quantities of fresh clean water in the winter as well as during the hot summer weather. Water which has been slightly warmed is preferred,
and to prevent it from freezing, too rapidly in cold weather an insulated container should be used. In cold houses it may be necessary to change the water several times daily but birds should never be expected to crack ice in order to get water.

This may be all right for horses and cattle, but not for birds who have to produce eggs in profitable quantities.

Here and There

A further concession to the travelling public is announced by C. P. Hiddell, Chairman, Canadian Passenger Association, in the statement that in future one-month round trip railway tickets previously good for continuous passage only between departure point and destination, will be valid for stop-over at intermediate points going and returning.
For many years Canadian railways have been selling one-month round trip tickets at twice the one-way fare, less ten per cent.,
good for continuous passage only.
Now, the stop-over privilege is granted without any increase in fare and passengers deciding en route to stop over, may do so on application to the conductor. This concession, it is felt by railway officials, will do much to further promote travel by rail in Canada.

ALBERTA BOYS WIN

AT B. Y. U.

(Special to the Recorder)
Provo, Utah, Dec. 10—Behind the accurate shooting of Harris Walker and good general team play, the Canadian Club basketball quintet advanced one step in the annual inter-club tournament at Brigham Young University Wednesday night in the first game of the season, winning over the Southern Club 40-32.

The Canadians, students from southern Alberta attending the U.D.S. school, opened up fast in the first few minutes with baskets by Walker, Forsyth and Grow, and led their opponents 20-11 at half time. The game was played in eight minute quarters, the Canucks making better than a point a minute for the full 32 minutes.

Leading comfortably in the last quarter, every one of the ten players were used to find the most effective combination for future games. Wayne Matkin of Magrath showed up well, but the fact that he has not practised kept him out of most game, in which the hardened players kept up a fast pace.

The Canadians played again Thursday night. The score book shows the following results:

|--------------------------|----|
| H. Walker, Raymond, f. | 17 |
| W. Forsyth, Cardston, f. | 2 |
| W. Matkin, Magrath, c. | 9 |
| W. Pitcher, Cardston, g. | 0 |
| W. Walker, Raymond, g. | 0 |
| B. King, Raymond, f. | 8 |
| W. Forsyth, Cardston, g. | 9 |
| S. Grow, Cardston, c. | 7 |
| M. Keith, Raymond, g. | 7 |
| E. Carl, Cardston, g. | 0 |

THURSDAY NIGHT

Playing listless basketball here tonight, the Canadian club team advanced through its second game of the annual series by defeating the Bayan team 16 to 6. There were only 21 minutes of playing time.

Behind feeble shooting and broken floor work, the southern Alberta boys led 8-0 at the half and then dropped in four baskets to the opponents three in the second canto. Matkin was not in the lineup.

The two Walkers, Bruce King and Howard Keith from Raymond; Pitcher, Grow and Howard Forsyth from Cardston saw the most action. All ten of the Canadian students in suits saw action during the encounter.

STARK TRAGEDY

the operator allows a stream of golden pellets to trickle through his bony fingers. Nervously he watches the balance. There must be no mistake. Not a thousandth part of a dram too much. Not the weight of a hair too little. The ingredients must be exact.

Carefully the dose is measured and weighed, then one by one with shaking hand he drops the glittering particles into the dark brown fluid.

Without turning to note the tense faces of associates, he quickly seals the receptacle and with deft precision deposits it in its niche in the infernal machine.

With a mighty effort he controls his quaking nerves and turns the key.

As the current begins to mix with the liquid a startling transformation takes place. With bloodshot eyes, those looking on can only gasp and stare as the elements bubble and spit and foam.

The only audible sounds are the deep breathing of the men and the spiteful hissing of the liquid as it gurgles and leaps in the bowl in a mad effort to escape.

With his eyes glued on the indicator, the operator silently watches as the minutes drag by—five—ten—fifteen. Merciful Heaven! What will the end be!

Another minute goes by and another. Still he sits with his eyes on the indicator. A nauseating odor permeates the atmosphere of the small room. The stillness of death is upon the little group. No one speaks. One man is seen to wipe his perspiring brow with the sleeve of his coat. The physical and mental strain is tremendous. The fluid is mounting higher and higher in the glass. One-seventy! One-seventy-one! Still the operator does not move.

With grim certainty, those present desperately await the outcome—One-seventy-eight—One-seventy-nine—shuts off the current. With bated breath and tense nerves the men know the end has come at last. Coolly the operator lifts the deadly vial holds it to the light, and, with practical eye, scans its markings. Suddenly he speaks—Fifteen—fifteen-two, fifteen-four, then for the first time he lifts his eyes to the agonized group before him. "Gentlemen," he says "Your wheat is tough."

SMOKED glasses deprive you of light—as they are meant to do when you peer at the sun. But indoors, if you cheat yourself of light—as if you were wearing smoked glasses—you're taxing your eyesight and getting right in line for defective vision the rest of your days. Science has revealed that light is the scientific partner of sight. Have every seeing task done in your home correctly lighted—floor and table lamps correctly shaded and placed, and filled with lamp bulbs of reputable make and of proper size. THANK YOU

The assistance of my many friends in contributing during my extended illness is deeply appreciated, and has made my stay in the Hospital a great deal more pleasant. I desire to take this opportunity of thanking all of you for your kindness.

—Andy—Lund.

For the first time in several years, a number of Raymond people are planning Xmas trips to old homes.

A gay crowd of 30 met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Peterson last Saturday night to honor Mr. Peterson on his 54th birthday. A delicious turkey supper was served, and games and music enjoyed.

Mrs. M. A. Selman, 81 years of age, and a pioneer of Raymond, is away on a motor trip to Utah to spend the winter with relatives and friends. She travelled with her son Drex. Considering her age this is probably a record.
